

In July, St Andrew's Club hosted our annual Awards Ceremony to celebrate the outstanding achievements of our young Members over the past academic year. It is so important to everyone at the Club, that whatever a child's passion or talent is, that St Andrew's is a place where it can grow and flourish.

In total, 30 young people were presented with a trophy. Seeing so many of our young Members talents celebrated by everyone at the Club was wonderful, we are very proud of what all our Members have achieved this year. Below is a snapshot of the Awards given, including extracts from the speech for each award, written by our Youth Workers.

Arts & Crafts Award

"She is excellent at getting stuck into any activity that we are doing at the craft table. She supports others when they need help creating something new. She remembers that cleaning is just as important as creating and always helps even when she is not asked to."

Boxer Of The Year

"This year's boxer of the year goes to somebody who started boxing with me at the Club over a year ago. I taught him the basics of boxing, and along the way I noticed an improvement in his confidence, his character and his behaviour in and out of the Club"

Most Improved Cook Of The Year

"This award recognises someone who has shown outstanding progress, determination, and a willingness to learn throughout the year. He has approached every cooking session with a positive attitude and a desire to improve."

Girls Group Reconition Reward

"They have been a valued member of the group, bringing kindness, enthusiasm, and positivity to every session. She has always been willing to take part, support others, and help create a welcoming and inclusive atmosphere where everyone feels comfortable and encouraged"

Michael Passmore's Outward Bound Award

"This young person was setting the example among the members on the trip; he stood out from the rest for going above and beyond. What really stood out was the fact that a young person wanted to do a muddy trail, and he voluntarily went to support them despite the wet and cold weather"

Cook Of The Year

"This member has shown fantastic enthusiasm, effort, and creativity in the kitchen throughout the year. He has always been willing to have a go, learn new skills, and help others when needed. He approached every cooking session with a positive attitude and a big smile"

Most Improved Girl Boxer

"This year's Most Improved Girl Boxer goes to somebody who has been boxing with me for almost a year but is so naturally talented. She looks like she's been boxing for years."

Sports Recognition Reward

"I started working with him two years ago (he was a little bit shorter then). He has worked so hard at basketball and is training six days a week. He has played at regional level and is going to a tournament in Spain next month."

Most Improved Boy Boxer Of The Year

"This year's Most Improved Boy Boxer of the year goes to someone who's been training with me over the last year. He's kind, he's polite, he lifts other people when he's training alongside them, and he's a pleasure to coach and train."

Girl Footballer Of The Year

"This player has led by example, going to every training session and match, always encouraging her teammates and showing good sportsmanship"

Boy Footballer Of The Year

"Mr 3 Lungs. Covers so much ground he probably needs two fitness trackers. But on a serious note played a big part this year; only right he gets this award"
